The Environment:

In 1947 The HON company began making recipe card boxes from pieces of scrap metal generated from its contract business. More than 50 years later, The HON Company practices one of the industry's strongest and most comprehensive programs to conserve raw materials and reduce waste.

Today, environmental management is firmly embedded in all of The HON Company's manufacturing processes. The HON Company defines waste as anything that does not bring value to the customer, and life cycle considerations are a significant part of all product development efforts.

The HON Company is a leader in the design and manufacturing of workplace furniture including chairs, files, panel systems and desks. Headquartered in Muscatine, Iowa, The HON Company has numerous manufacturing facilities strategically located throughout the United States and markets its products through a nationwide network of dealers and retailers.
