HON saw today’s evolved learning space coming years before it arrived. We did it by understanding the most effective teaching methods, then investigating how smarter spaces could enhance learning. So we designed affordable chairs, tables and desks that were more in tune with both teacher and student needs. That provided great versatility and encouraged stronger collaboration. When your school can do all that, you’ll achieve a higher level of learning.
BIG IDEAS FOR ELEMENTARY

Show and tell. Class projects. Story time. Younger learners have a much different daily schedule than other students. This requires a unique learning environment—one that supports a variety of teaching styles and classroom layouts. Desks that can be configured to support small groups, one-on-one instruction and collaborative mentor learning. Variable height tables and chairs that fit every level of elementary learning. Mobile storage that defines boundaries and keeps the classroom tidy. With a combination of comfort, adaptability and organization, it’s easy to see why HON is every teacher’s pet.

Middle school is where students begin to discover their interests. Explore new ways of thinking. With a variety of subjects and activities, teachers need to create a variety of classroom settings throughout the day. That’s why HON desks and tables are designed to support rows, clusters and a variety of other layouts that encourage personalized learning. Chairs that intuitively respond to a student’s movement, providing the active comfort needed to maintain focus. Teachers benefit from HON learning furniture as well, with mobile workstations, storage solutions and presentation boards that adapt to fit any lesson plan or teaching style.

MAKE WAY FOR MAKING

Learning through the process of making puts an emphasis on tinkering over lecturing. Today’s students are getting more real-world experience creating solutions, exploring new ideas and deconstructing things in makerspaces. Supporting these kinetic hands-on activities requires a different set of tools, such as adaptable storage, tables and mobile whiteboards that bring students closer to their work. HON takes pride in creating practical makerspaces that prepare our next generation of workers.

ONE SPACE. LIMITLESS POTENTIAL.

Don’t tell this generation that libraries are solely places for quiet reflection and whispering. From individual reading to group projects, libraries now support a variety of activities throughout the day, with spaces ranging from comfy lounges to individual workstations to group settings. This requires integrated power for charging devices, a variety of table sizes to support a broader range of learning, and most importantly, arrangements that help students accomplish more.

BRINGING PEOPLE TOGETHER

Lunch. Assembly. Testing. Any activity that brings large groups together is held here. So how do you comfortably support a variety of settings throughout the day? You Motivate it. Motivate tables and chairs transform cafeteria settings into a dynamic, flexible environment. Tables are available with fixed, nesting, folding and height-adjustable base options, making them easy to set up, quick to rearrange and simple to store when not in use. Chairs can be stored in convenient, space-saving nests or stacks — ready to move when and where you need it.

Set a tone for the entire school with an efficient front office that is inviting for students and parents, and organized for staff. Well-designed administrative areas support both individual and teaming activities, while offering easy access to active and archival files. Private offices with efficient desk and storage layouts maximize space and support both informal meetings and heads-down focus. HON administrative products help you stay organized, keep your composure, and regain control over the front office.

ANYTHING BUT COMMON

Studies show a growing percentage of learning happens outside the classroom, making common areas vital to the learning process. Comprised of change-of-pace lounges, varying-height tables, chairs and stools, these spaces provide a comfortable place for students to connect. Common areas also include that much needed faculty lounge where teachers can retreat during the workday. HON can make any break area more versatile and inviting with a combination of comfortable guest and lounge seating that offer teachers a place to relax, refuel and recharge before the bell rings.

EVERY SPACE IS A LEARNING SPACE

HON knows learning doesn’t end at the classroom door. In every corner of your facility, knowledge is transferred, papers are graded, and decisions are made. From the front office to the classroom – and every opportunity for learning between – we craft the products that inspire, engage and connect the ways in which students learn.
